Choraegus ShareMusic Rehearsal Notes

General

Pay careful attention to rhythm and rests throughout the song.

Choir

Keep the vocals' chords in tight lockstep to preserve the crispness of the song.

Give the SSA parts in the last chorus (m. 53-79) some special attention so that they're intonationally precise and rhythmically clean, then remind everyone that the bass/tenor sections have the melody there.

Ensure that the volume levels match when the women's and men's sections exchange unisons (m. 36-40, 61-65)

Accompanist

There's a bit of a temptation to slam away at the piano part because of its chordal and rhythmic nature. Don't do it - ease off a bit so that you don't squash the bee which is the subject of the lyrics!
